

To Whom it May Concern:

For the past 15 years David has assisted in all aspects of my start-up businesses including the development of business strategy, staffing and sales distribution channels, operations, logistics and marketing. I can always count on David to understand the needs of my business, collaborate on a compelling plan, then work efficiently and diligently to execute effective solutions.

In addition, I am proud to have David represent my businesses to key vendors, partners and customers. I have utilized David's rich experience and professional demeanor in many important meetings and situations. David has represented my businesses at key trade shows in New York, in key account meetings with companies such as Walmart and Bed Bath & Beyond and in dealings with key partners and suppliers all over the world including in Holland, Denmark, Brazil, and China. People seem to naturally like and trust David . He is very effective in his dealings with people at all levels of business.

I am confident in David's ability to make a positive impact on your business. David has my full support and recommendation for any opportunity he is pursuing.
